

COOMERA
ANGLICAN
COLLEGE

27 May 2019

Dear Parents/Guardians

I am writing to inform you that we will once again be holding Grandparents' Day at Coomera Anglican College and it is scheduled for Friday 16 August 2019 between 8.00am and 11.00am. The focus will be from the Early Learning Centre through to Year 6 and students are encouraged to bring a special friend or parent/relation if grandparents are unable to attend. The theme of Book Week for 2019 is 'Reading is my Superpower' and we invite students, grandparents and special friends to participate this year, however, our focus is a little different.

We are encouraging students to design and create a superhero cape and to decorate this cape with their character strengths. The College's Flourishing Model could be used as the basis for this cape (see attached). Students might also wear a headpiece, arm bands or choose some other way to demonstrate their character 'superpowers'.

We understand that some of you may have already started to create your favourite book character costume, and if this is the case, I ask that you consider the character strengths that this book character might exhibit and include this in your costume too (no cape required). We will continue to go ahead with our Grandparents' Day Book Parade as is our tradition on this day. In this way, we are connecting these Book Week costumes to the College's Flourishing Model while celebrating literacy, literature and a love of reading.

Below are some websites that might assist you in the creation of your capes, but you might also have some ideas of your own.

Similarly, below are a number of websites that can help you with the idea of character strengths.
